What's Legal About Cancer? Insurance, Employment, Finances

Monica Fawzy Bryant, ESQ
Triage Cancer

Rose Gerber, M.S.
Community Oncology Alliance

When a patient receives a cancer diagnosis, questions start to arise about insurance coverage, the future of employment, and how to pay for treatment. What does my insurance cover versus what is out of pocket? Will I lose my job because I have cancer? Can I afford treatment? These are all scary questions that can intimidate patients if they don't know the extent of their rights, and why organizations like Triage Cancer were created.

On December 14, join COA's Rose Gerber, MS, Director of Patient Advocacy & Education, and Triage Cancer's Monica Fawzy Bryant, Esq, Chief Operating Officer, to learn about the important insurance, employment, and financial issues impacting cancer patients.
